

RSC and SBQ-BMOS are proud to announce the BMOS-RSC Young Investigator Distinction.

YOUNG INVESTIGATOR Distinction

Dear colleagues,

Royal Society of Chemistry (RSC) and Brazilian Meeting on Organic Synthesis (BMOS) are proud to announce the BMOS-RSC Young Investigator Distinction awardees (a Chemical Communication and Organic & Biomolecular Chemistry journals effort):

- ✚ Andrew L. Lawrence, The University of Edinburgh, United Kingdom;
- ✚ Diogo S. Lüdtko, Universidade Federal do Rio Grande do Sul, Brazil;
- ✚ Giovanni W. Amarante, Universidade Federal de Juiz de Fora, Brazil;
- ✚ Stephen P. Thomas, The University of Edinburgh, United Kingdom.

We recognize and celebrate the achievements of these young investigators in advancing the chemical science and making a positive impact in your organizations, communities and society with independence and research originality/impact.

The Royal Society of Chemistry and BMOS Organizing Committee express their gratitude to the Committee for selecting the winners and contributing to our event.

Winners will receive a certificate, an invitation to deliver a presentation and a contribution towards travel and accommodation to attend the 17th BMOS.

Yours sincerely,

General Secretary of the Organizing Committee
17th Brazilian Meeting on Organic Synthesis - BMOS

Royal Society of Chemistry – RSC
Brazil

